Buxton Festival

Congratulation to all our Buxton Festival artists - you made a real impact at the Festival, your music has really improved over the year and your confidence and performance skills as well as your resilience was superb. A special well done to those who were awarded medals. Thankyou parents for supporting all the children.

Beach Day

We are pleased to announce that the school will be hosting a day of circus games and activities as part of our beach day.

We've ordered sand, sunshine and the staff are busy planning beach games and paddling (anyone able to lend us a large paddling pool?) After much thought and a visit over the May break we will not be going by coach to Llandudno - sorry it took too long and was incredibly busy and the facilities were not suitable for the whole school. This is a real shame but we were very mindful of using PTFA money wisely and have decided that circus skills and sand, piped seaside sounds and games will be more fun!

Breakfast Club
After several requests, we are aiming to start breakfast club from the autumn so please look out for the letter next week.

Welcome to Eyam School

Next meeting Thursday 5 July 8pm

Art week at Eyam

Hedgehogs took inspiration from David Hockney whilst Squirrels enjoyed a wonderful visit to Hannah Bennett's sculpture garden.

We were thrilled to work with local artist Sarah Littlefield who has helped the children to design and make a wonderful mosaic..... we look forward to seeing the result.

We are still looking for a relief Mid-Day Supervisor to work either or both Thursday & Friday each week to start as soon as possible. Hours are 11.45-1.05 and include a school lunch afterwards. Please call in to the office if you are interested or want further details. Also relief MDS to provide cover for occasional sickness etc.

Musicians have been given an invitation to the local Music Centre Gala Concert at the Buxton Opera House at 2pm on 17 June 2018 - free children's ticket (with a paying adult, price £5). Some of our children are performing in the matinee concert.
